Exhibit 10.1

TRANSITION SERVICES AGREEMENT

This TRANSITION SERVICES AGREEMENT (this "Agreement") is dated as of [_], 2025 ("Effective Date"), by and among Bristol Metals, LLC, a Tennessee limited liability company (the "Company"), Synalloy Metals, Inc., a Tennessee corporation (the "Intermediate Parent"), Ascent Industries Co., a Delaware corporation ("Parent", and together with the Company and the Intermediate Parent, collectively, "Providers" and each, individually, a "Provider"), and Bristol Pipe and Tube, Inc., a Delaware corporation ("Purchaser"). Capitalized terms used herein shall have the meanings given thereto in the Asset Purchase Agreement by and among the Company, the Intermediate Parent, the Parent, and Purchaser, dated as of March 12, 2025 (the "Purchase Agreement").

WITNESSETH:

Purchaser and Providers desire to set forth the terms and conditions whereby:

A. Providers will provide certain Transition Services (as defined below) to Purchaser in connection with the purchase of the Purchased Assets and servicing the Business; and

B. Purchaser will purchase such Transition Services from Providers.

In consideration of the premises and the mutual covenants and agreements herein contained and for other good and valuable consideration, the receipt and sufficiency of which are hereby acknowledged, and intending to be legally bound, the parties hereto hereby agree as follows:

ARTICLE I
SERVICES PROVIDED

1.1 Transition Services. Upon the terms and subject to the conditions set forth in this Agreement, each Provider will provide all services (hereinafter referred to individually as a "Transition Service" and collectively as the "Transition Services") such Provider provided to Company for the 12-month period preceding the Closing Date, including those set forth in Schedule A hereto (the "Schedule", which may be amended or revised from time to time by the parties to include additional services or remove services no longer needed), to Purchaser (and such other services as mutually agreed upon in writing by a Provider and Purchaser) during the time period specified for each such Transition Service in such Schedule (hereinafter referred to collectively as the "Time Periods" for all of the Transition Services and individually a "Time Period" for a Transition Service). Each Provider shall provide the Transition Services in a substantially similar manner as such Provider historically provided such services for the Company, and each Provider shall not be obligated to perform any services other than the Transition Services. Purchaser acknowledges that the Transition Services provided under this Agreement are being provided to Purchaser on a transitional basis for the purpose of facilitating the transactions contemplated in the Purchase Agreement, and that Providers are not professional service organizations and are not in the business of providing such services to unaffiliated third parties. The parties shall cooperate in good faith to ensure the Transition Services are rendered in a timely and efficient manner to transition the Purchased Assets and Business operations to Purchaser.

1.2 Personnel. In providing the Transition Services, a Provider may, as it deems necessary or appropriate, (i) use the personnel of such Provider or its Affiliates, and (ii) employ the services of third parties to the extent that, and subject to the condition that, such third party services are routinely utilized to provide similar services to other businesses of such Provider or are, in the Provider's sole discretion, reasonably necessary for the efficient performance of such Transition Services.

1.3 Representatives. Providers and Purchaser shall each nominate a representative to act as its primary contact person to coordinate the provision of all of the Transition Services (collectively, the "Primary Coordinators"). Each Primary Coordinator may designate one or more service coordinators for each specific Transition Service (the "Service Coordinators"). Each party may treat an act of a Primary Coordinator or Service Coordinator of another party as being authorized by such other party without inquiring behind such act or ascertaining whether such Primary Coordinator or Service Coordinator had authority to so act, provided, however, that no such Primary Coordinator or Service Coordinator has authority to amend this Agreement. Providers and Purchaser shall advise each other promptly (in any case no more than five (5) business days) in writing of any change in the Primary Coordinators and any Service Coordinator for a particular Transition Service, setting forth the name of the Primary Coordinator or Service Coordinator to be replaced and the name of the replacement, and certifying that the replacement Primary Coordinator or Service Coordinator is authorized to act for such party in all matters relating to this Agreement, in the case of a Primary Coordinator or, in the case of a Service Coordinator, with respect to the Transition Service for which such Service Coordinator has been designated. Providers and Purchaser each agree that all communications relating to the provision of the Transition Services shall be directed to the Service Coordinators for such Transition Service with copies to the Primary Coordinators. Providers' initial Primary Coordinator shall be
J. Bryan Kitchen. Purchaser's initial Primary Coordinator shall be Rahul Mehta. For each Transition Service, the applicable Provider's and Purchaser's initial Service Coordinator is set forth on the Schedule.

1.4 Level of Transition Services.

(a) In all events, each Provider shall perform, and shall cause any affiliate of such Provider that performs Transition Services to perform, the Transition Services without discriminating in any material or intentional respect against Purchaser with respect to providing such Transition Services or taking such actions in favor of any other business of such Provider or any other Persons.

(b) Each Provider and Purchaser shall cooperate with one another and provide such further assistance as the other may reasonably request in connection with the provision of the Transition Services.

(c) In addition to being subject to the terms and conditions of this Agreement for the provision of the Transition Services, each Provider and Purchaser agree that the Transition Services provided by third parties shall be subject to the terms and conditions of any agreements between the applicable Provider and such third parties, and no such agreements shall be binding on Purchaser after the term of this Agreement or the termination of any individual Transition Service without Purchaser's express written consent. In the event a new or different third party will provide Transition Services during the Term, Provider shall give reasonable notice to Purchaser in advance of such change.

1.5 Modification of Procedures or Services.

(a) Subject to Purchaser's prior written consent, which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld, a Provider may make reasonable changes from time to time in its standards and procedures or third parties' contracts for performing the Transition Services, provided that such changes do not (i) result in an adverse impact to the Company/Purchaser, (ii) result in degradation in the quality or timeliness of the services performed, or (iii) result in an increase in the consideration charged by such Provider to the Purchaser for the services performed.

(b) During the term of this Agreement, Purchaser shall, within five (5) days after such plans are available, provide each Provider with a plan identifying any changes in the Business that may affect the provision of the Transition Services by a Provider; provided, however, that the failure of Purchaser to provide such notice shall not alter or diminish a Provider's obligations to provide the Transition Services as contemplated for the Business prior to any changes and on the terms set forth herein. Each Provider shall make commercially reasonable efforts to alter the method in which it provides the Transition Services based on Purchaser's changes in the Business.

1.6 No Obligation to Continue to Use Services; Provider to Assist in Transitioning.

(a) Purchaser shall not be obligated to continue to use any of the Transition Services and may terminate any Transition Service by giving the applicable Provider thirty (30) days' prior notice thereof in accordance with the notice provisions herein.

(b) Notwithstanding the foregoing, the applicable Provider shall use all commercially reasonable efforts to assist Purchaser in Purchaser's efforts in undertaking to provide for itself any Transition Services, including without limitation giving Purchaser possession of the various documents, data and other records used or useful in the delivery of such Transition Services (to the extent that such provision would not violate the confidentiality terms of any proprietary documents) and taking such other steps as are reasonably necessary and without material cost to such Provider to assist Purchaser to provide for itself such Transition Services on a self-sufficient basis.

1.7 Provider/Purchaser Access. To the extent reasonably required for personnel of a Provider to perform the Transition Services, Purchaser shall provide personnel of such Provider with reasonable access during normal business hours (to the extent practicable) to its equipment, office space, plants, telecommunications and computer equipment and systems, and any other areas and equipment. Purchaser will provide a Provider access, including remote access, to all IT systems/software used by the Company, including outside of normal business hours. To enable the Purchaser to establish its own IT systems/software, each Provider will provide access to (or the transfer of) the Company's data.

1.8 Purchaser Obligations. During the term of this Agreement, Purchaser shall (i) comply with any reasonable instructions provided by a Provider that are necessary for such Provider to adequately provide the Transition Services; (ii) comply with all applicable standards and procedures applicable to such Transition Service which are in the manner generally applied by a Provider in its business; and (iii) promptly report any operational or system problem affecting the provision of any Transition Services by a Provider. Notwithstanding the foregoing, any failure by Purchaser to perform any of the foregoing shall not alter or diminish a Provider's obligations to provide the Transition Services on the terms set forth herein so long as Provider can reasonably provide the Transition Services despite the failure by Purchaser.

1.9 Obligations to Each Party. All employees and representatives of a Provider and its Affiliates shall be deemed to be employees or representatives of such Provider and its Affiliates, and not employees or representatives of Purchaser or any of its respective Affiliates. All employees and representatives of Purchaser and its Affiliates shall be deemed to be employees or representatives of Purchaser and its Affiliates, and not employees or representatives of a Provider or any of its Affiliates. Nothing in this Agreement shall make any party the partner, fiduciary, agent, employee or representative of any other party. Except as expressly contemplated herein, no party shall assume or create any obligations or responsibility, express or implied, on behalf of or in the name of any other party or bind any other party in any manner whatsoever.

ARTICLE II
COMPENSATION

2.1 Consideration. As consideration for the Transition Services, Purchaser shall pay to the applicable Provider the amount specified for each such Transition Service in accordance with the provision as set forth in the first paragraph of Schedule A to this Agreement. In addition, if Provider incurs reasonable and documented out-of-pocket expenses in providing any Transition Service, including, without limitation, fees for license or permits and payments to third-party service providers or subcontractors ("Out-of-Pocket Costs"), Purchaser shall reimburse Provider for all such Out-of-Pocket Costs in accordance with the invoicing and payment procedures set out in this Article II.

2.2 Invoices. After the end of each month, each Provider, together with its Affiliates or subsidiaries providing Transition Services, will submit a single itemized invoice with appropriate documentation for amounts included to Purchaser for all Transition Services provided to Purchaser during such month. All invoices shall be sent to the attention of the Primary Coordinator at the address set forth in Section 7.1 hereof or to such other address as Purchaser shall have specified by notice in writing to a Provider.

2.3 Payment of Invoices.

(a) Payment of all invoices in respect of a Transition Service shall be made by check or electronic funds transmission in U.S. Dollars, without any offset or deduction of any nature whatsoever (except that offset or deduction may be made in regard to other invoiced amounts due under this Agreement or to the extent of a dispute in good faith concerning amounts due under this Agreement), within thirty (30) days of the invoice date unless otherwise specified in the Schedule relating to such Transition Service. All payments shall be made to the account designated by the applicable Provider to Purchaser.

(b) If any payment is not paid when due (except to the extent disputed in good faith), a Provider shall have the right to immediately terminate the Transition Service for which payment has not been paid. Notwithstanding the above, a Provider shall not cease providing any Transition Service or terminate this Agreement if such lack of payment is due to a good faith dispute, the details of which Purchaser has indicated to such Provider in writing, provided Purchaser is continuing to negotiate in good faith regarding such dispute.

2.4 Each Provider shall keep correct and complete books of account regarding costs and expenses, financial records, Tax records and other relevant information associated with the provision of the Transition Services. Each Provider shall provide copies of all such information within ten (10) days of request from Purchaser, or such other mutually agreed to period of time.

ARTICLE III
CONFIDENTIALITY

3.1 As used in this Agreement, the "Confidential Information" of a party shall mean all information concerning or related to the business, operations, financial condition or prospects of such party or any of its Affiliates that is disclosed to the other party (or to which the other party gains access) pursuant to the transactions contemplated under this Agreement or the Purchase Agreement, regardless of the form in which such information appears and whether or not such information has been reduced to a tangible form, and shall specifically include (i) all inventions, discoveries, trade secrets, customer information, processes, techniques, methods, formulae, ideas and know-how, if any, of such party and its Affiliates, and (ii) all financial statements, audit reports, budgets and business plans or forecasts of such party and its Affiliates; provided, that the Confidential Information of a party shall not include (A) information which is or becomes generally known to the public through no act or omission of the other party in breach of its obligations under Sections 3.1 or 3.2, (B) information which has been or hereafter is lawfully obtained by the other party from a third party so long as, in the case of information obtained from a third party, to the knowledge of such receiving party, such third party was or is not, directly or indirectly, subject to an obligation of confidentiality owed to the party to whom such Confidential Information belongs or any of its Affiliates at the time such Confidential Information was or is disclosed to the other party, (C) information that is independently developed by the receiving party without any reliance on the Confidential Information, and (D) information the discloser has a legal obligation to disclose.

3.2 Except as otherwise permitted by Section 3.3 below or the Purchase Agreement,
(i) Purchaser agrees that it will keep the Confidential Information of each Provider strictly confidential, and will cause its Affiliates to keep the Confidential Information of each Provider and its Affiliates strictly confidential, and will not, without the prior written consent of a Provider, disclose any Confidential Information of a Provider and (ii) each Provider agrees that it will keep the Confidential Information of Purchaser strictly confidential, and will cause each of its Affiliates to keep the Confidential Information of Purchaser and its Affiliates strictly confidential, and will not, without the prior written consent of Purchaser, disclose any Confidential Information of Purchaser. Each of the parties shall be responsible for any material breach of this Agreement by its Affiliates.

3.3 Notwithstanding Section 3.2, each of the parties shall be permitted to disclose Confidential Information (i) to its Affiliates and its and their respective officers, directors, employees and other agents, including advisors and representatives, but only to the extent reasonably necessary in order for such party to perform its obligations and exercise its rights and remedies under this Agreement, and such party shall take all such action as shall be necessary in order to ensure that each of such Persons maintains the confidentiality of any Confidential Information that is so disclosed; (ii) to the extent, but only to the extent, required by applicable Law; provided, however, that prior to making any such disclosure, the party required to make such disclosure shall (to the extent permitted) notify the other party of the same so that such other party may consider seeking a protective order, and (iii) to the extent, but only to the extent, necessary in connection with any Legal Proceeding relating to a party's rights or obligations under this Agreement or any other Transaction Document or any other Legal Proceeding in connection herewith or therewith. In the event the protective order referenced in clause (ii) is not obtained or disclosure pursuant to clause (iii) is necessary, the disclosing party shall furnish only that portion of the Confidential Information which is legally required and shall exercise its commercially reasonable efforts to obtain confidential treatment of the Confidential Information. To the extent not prohibited by Law, the disclosing party will provide a copy of any Confidential Information which is being disclosed pursuant to the provisions of this Article III to the other party prior to disclosing such Confidential Information to a third party.

3.4 Upon the termination of this Agreement, at the request of either party, the other party shall, as soon as practicable, return, or, at its option, destroy, and cause to be returned or destroyed, all or any requested portion of the requesting party's Confidential Information, including all copies, reproductions, summaries, analyses or extracts thereof, and will promptly certify (by an owner or officer of receiving party) any such destruction.

3.5 Each of the parties shall promptly notify the other party, to the extent legally permissible and reasonably practicable, upon its discovery of any unauthorized use or disclosure of the Confidential Information. If a party breaches this Agreement, the other party may suffer an irreparable injury that no remedy at law would adequately compensate for such injury. Accordingly, the injured party will have the right to enforce this Agreement by injunction or seek other equitable relief, without bond and without prejudice to any other rights and remedies that it may have for the other party's breach of this Agreement.

ARTICLE IV
TERM

4.1 Term. This Agreement shall become effective on the Closing Date and shall remain in force until the expiration of the longest Time Period specified in any Schedule hereto (the "Expiration Date") up to two (2) years or as otherwise agreed to by the parties every calendar quarter, unless all of the Transition Services are terminated by Purchaser in accordance with Section 1.6(a) above, or this Agreement is terminated under Section 2.3(b) prior to the Expiration Date. Notwithstanding the above, each Provider and Purchaser agree to use commercially reasonable efforts in expediting the transition of each of the Transition Services from a Provider to Purchaser.

4.2 Termination of Obligations. Purchaser specifically agrees and acknowledges that all obligations of a Provider to provide a Transition Service shall immediately cease upon the expiration of the Time Period for such Transition Service, and a Provider's obligations to provide all of the Transition Services hereunder shall immediately cease upon the termination of this Agreement in its entirety. Purchaser shall bear sole responsibility for instituting permanent services, or obtaining replacement services, in respect of any Transition Service terminated in accordance with the provisions hereof, and no Provider shall bear liability for Purchaser's failure to implement or obtain such service.

4.3 Survival of Certain Obligations. Without prejudice to the survival of the other agreements of the parties, the following obligations shall survive the termination of this Agreement: (a) the obligations of each party under Section 1.9 and Article III and (b) a Provider's right to receive the compensation for the Transition Services provided by it hereunder provided in Section 2.1 above incurred prior to the effective date of termination.

ARTICLE V
LIABILITY AND DISPUTE RESOLUTION

5.1 Limitation of Liability. The parties hereto acknowledge and agree that the Transition Services are provided by each Provider: (i) at the request of Purchaser in order to accommodate it in servicing the Business following the Closing, and (ii) at the costs set forth on the applicable Schedule hereto and with no expectation of profit being made by a Provider thereon. Accordingly, each party agrees that, absent gross negligence, willful misconduct, theft or fraud, the other party, its subsidiaries and Affiliates and its and their directors, officers, employees, representatives, consultants and agents shall not be liable for any indirect, special, or incidental damages, including lost profits or savings, whether or not such damages are foreseeable. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained herein, in the event a Provider commits an error with respect to or incorrectly performs or fails to perform any Transition Service, at Purchaser's request, such Provider shall promptly use best efforts and in good faith attempt to correct such error, re-perform or perform such Transition Service or hire a replacement provider at no additional cost to Purchaser.

5.2 Indemnity. In addition to the rights and obligations set forth in Article VI of the Purchase Agreement:

(a) Purchaser agrees to indemnify and hold each Provider and its subsidiaries and Affiliates and persons serving as officers, directors, partners or employees thereof ("Provider Indemnified Parties") harmless from and against any damages, liabilities, losses, costs and expenses (including reasonable attorneys' fees and court costs) (each, a "Damage" and, collectively, "Damages") of any kind or nature whatsoever incurred by or imposed upon one or more of the Provider Indemnified Parties, all to the extent that such Damages are in respect of, arise out of or are based upon (i) the gross negligence or willful misconduct of Purchaser or its Affiliates in performing (or failing to perform) its obligations under this Agreement, (ii) Purchaser's violation of Law, or (iii) Purchaser's material breach of this Agreement.

(b) Each Provider agrees to indemnify and hold Purchaser and its subsidiaries and Affiliates and persons serving as officers, directors, partners or employees thereof ("Purchaser Indemnified Parties") harmless from and against any Damages of any kind or nature whatsoever incurred by or imposed upon one or more of the Purchaser Indemnified Parties, all to the extent that such Damages are in respect of, arise out of or are based upon (i) the gross negligence or willful misconduct of a Provider or its Affiliates in providing (or failing to provide) a Service,

(ii) any Provider's or any of its affiliate's violation of law, or (iii) a Provider's or its Affiliates' breach of this Agreement.

5.3 Force Majeure. Any failure or omission by a party in the performance of any obligation under this Agreement shall not be deemed a breach of this Agreement or create any liability, if the same arises from any cause or causes beyond the control of such party, including but not limited to, the following, which, for purposes of this Agreement shall be regarded as beyond the control of each of the parties hereto: acts of God, governmental regulation or direction prohibiting performance under this Agreement, acts of war, rebellion, or invasion; provided however that such party shall resume its performance whenever such causes are removed.

5.4 Disclaimer of Warranties. THIS IS A SERVICE AGREEMENT. EXCEPT AS EXPRESSLY STATED IN THIS AGREEMENT, THE PROVIDERS DO NOT GUARANTEE OR WARRANT THE TRANSITION SERVICES TO BE PROVIDED HEREUNDER, AND EXPRESSLY DISCLAIMS ANY EXPRESS OR IMPLIED WARRANTIES OR GUARANTEES OF ANY KIND, INCLUDING ANY WARRANTY OF MERCHANTABILITY, NONINFRINGEMENT OR FITNESS FOR A PARTICULAR PURPOSE.

5.5 Cooperation and Dispute Resolution. During the term of this Agreement, the parties agree to cooperate in good faith to realize the practical benefits of this Agreement and to resolve any problems that may occur with respect to this Agreement in a commercially reasonable way. As part of that cooperation, each party agrees as follows:

(a) The Primary Coordinators shall be such party's coordinators (the "Coordinators") for the purpose of coordinating the Transition Services to be provided hereunder with the objective that the overall intent and agreement of the parties regarding the Transition Services required under this Agreement are achieved, including the prompt payment to a Provider for the Transition Services provided hereunder. Each party may treat an act of a Coordinator of another party as being authorized by such other party without inquiring into such act or ascertaining whether such Coordinator had authority to so act; provided that no Coordinator has the authority to amend this Agreement, except in accordance with Section 7.9.

(b) The Coordinators will promptly negotiate in good faith to resolve all disputes, controversies or claims arising out of or relating to this Agreement or the performance hereunder (a "Dispute"). In the event that the Coordinators cannot resolve a Dispute within fourteen (14) days of the date the Coordinators initiate negotiations with respect to such Dispute, the parties shall refer such Dispute to J. Bryan Kitchen, on behalf of Providers, and Johnny Hsieh, on behalf of Purchaser, for resolution. In the event that such Dispute cannot be resolved by the parties within fifteen (15) days of being referred to their respective dispute resolution designees, the parties agree that they shall settle all such Disputes in the manner provided in Section 7.2.

(c) While any Dispute is being resolved in accordance with this Section 5 . 5 , each Provider and Purchaser shall, to the extent they are reasonably able to, continue to perform all of its obligations under this Agreement, including those obligations subject to the Dispute.

The failure by Purchaser or a Provider at any time to enforce any of the terms, provisions or conditions of this Agreement shall not constitute or be construed as a waiver of the same and any single or partial exercise by Purchaser or a Provider of any right under this Agreement shall not preclude any further or other exercise of the same or the exercise of any other right.

The parties hereto agree that irreparable damage would occur in the event that any of the provisions of this Agreement were not performed by Purchaser or a Provider, as applicable, in accordance with their specific terms or were otherwise breached by Purchaser or a Provider, as applicable. It is accordingly agreed that, in addition to any other remedy to which they may be entitled at law or in equity, the parties shall be entitled to an injunction or injunctions, without any necessity of showing actual damage or irreparable harm and without any requirement to post or provide any bond or other security in connection therewith, to prevent breaches of this Agreement by any of Purchaser or a Provider, as applicable, and to enforce specifically the terms and provisions hereof against Purchaser or a Provider, as applicable, in any court having jurisdiction, this being in addition to any other remedies to which the parties hereto are entitled at law or in equity. Each of the parties hereby waives any requirement for the posting or provision of any bond or other security in connection with any such enforcement and each of the parties agrees that it will not oppose the granting of an injunction, specific performance and/or other equitable relief on the basis that any other party has an adequate remedy at law or that any award of specific performance or other equitable remedy is not an appropriate remedy for any reason at law or in equity.

7.13 Cumulative Remedies. No remedy made available hereunder by any of the provisions of this Agreement is intended to be exclusive of any other remedy, and each and every remedy shall be cumulative and shall be in addition to every other remedy given hereunder, now or hereafter existing at Law or in equity or by statute or otherwise.

7.14 No Third-Party Beneficiaries. Nothing in this Agreement will be construed as giving any person, other than the parties hereto and their respective successors and permitted assigns, any right, remedy or claim under or in respect of this Agreement or any provision hereof.

7.15 Severability. Each provision of this Agreement is intended to be severable. Should any provision of this Agreement or the application thereof be judicially declared to be or become illegal, invalid, unenforceable or void, the remainder of this Agreement will continue in full force and effect and the application of such provision to other persons or circumstances will be interpreted so as reasonably to effect the intent of the parties.

7.16 Relationship of Parties. Nothing in this Agreement shall be deemed or construed by the parties or any third party as creating a partnership or the relationship of principal and agent or joint venture between the parties, it being understood and agreed that no provision contained herein, and no act of the parties, shall be deemed to create any relationship between the parties other than the relationship of buyer and provider of services nor be deemed to vest any rights, interests or claims in any third parties.

7.17 Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed in one or more counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original, but all of which together shall constitute a single agreement.
